ics, I am a ruised man, Kate everything none at last.

Nothing to show for the trouble and toil of the wear, has that are part;

Housen wid lands and housey have all taken wings and new. This very increding I alguest away the real from over my bead

I shouldn't care for myself, Kute, Lam used to the world's rough ways. I've ding and delted and globded slong through all my manbout days;
But I think of you and the children, and it almost breaks my heart,
For I thought so surely to give my boys dud girls a special start.

So many years on the Indies, I throught I was tour the top.
Only a few yours longer, and then I expected to story.
And put my two boys into my place, with an easier life abend.
And may I must give that prespect up that conforting dream is dead.

I am worth sage than my gold, the youngs good to look at it so,

But a man san't worth very much, Kate, when his hair is turning to many.

My poor likelegate with their soft white hands and immosant eyer of blue,

Turned addrict at the heartless would what the and what with they do?

An honest faiture? Indocd it was, dollar for sol An honest failure? Indeed it was, common an world provided in paid.

Noter a creditor and credit whatever pouple have sake:

Better are raise and a conscience clear than a palace and sheet of sheme.

One thing I shall trave to my children, and that is an honest nessel.

AN AMISING SUPERSTITION. - In Rome many of the people will sign no contract on Friday Neither will they light three candles or sit in a room when three candles only are lighted -In Florence this deep rooted horror of certain numbers and days takes quite a comical form. In many streets and squares there is no number thirteen, but twelve and a half has been substituted, so that the numbers run twelve, twelve and a half, and fourteen. In this ingenious way the dread number is done away with. Houses bearing the unlucky number rarely find any Italian lodgers

San Fhancisco, July 10 .-- A dispatch received at army headquarters here, from Gen. Howard, dated head of Birch Creek, July 8, says he found the Indians in force on the heights near the head of Butter creek. He advanced two columns, one under Throckmorton, consisting of two companies of artillery and one of infantry and a few volunteers, and the others under Bernard, consist ing of seven companies of cavalry and twenty of Robbins' scouts. Howard accompanied the latter column Bernard's scouts notified him of the vicinity of that at Missionary Ridge, but not a man broke ranks though several saddles were emptied and many horses killed. The enemy were driven from their position to another height in the rear, of greater elevation and crowned with natural defenses of lava rocks. In twenty minutes this position was also stormed from different sides at once and a rapid pursuit commenced of flying Indians, who abandoned horses, provisions, ammunition and camp material. The hostiles made for a thick timber crowning blue ridge and made another stand, but were again destroyed and pushed four or five miles further in the mountains. The This was done with the expectation that | rough country and great exhaustion of men and horses caused a ceruation of the pursuit for to day. In this engagement five enlisted men were wound and about 20 horses killed. It is im possible to state the loss of the enemy Their women and children and best horses were moved before the fight began, apparently in the direction of Grand sion, the delegates were instructed to Ronde, and the hostiles fied in that di vote for no man who had accepted the rection. The officers and men behaved

To day formal charges were filed against Collector Thomas, of Baltimore, for its violation in having participated in the primary elocuion in his city, not only bluself but in which some fifty subordinates were engaged to effect certain nomina tions. The subject will receive prompt ment, when it will remain to be what will be done about it. This impiration of Secretary Schurz has been an incubus on the administration ever since the president gave his assent to its impracticable theories It has been violated daily ever since in executive appointments, and in no department more openly than that presided over by its originate. The charge against Collector Thomas, it is said by his friends, grows out of the petty rivalries in Maryland politics, which President Grant used to characterize as an excellent way to keep the Republicans there in a hopeless minority. Sceretary Sherman never has believed in the order and will now have an opportunity to oppose it absordity.

A preliminary examination of parties ocused of crime such as was had yesterday before Justice Peake, makes curious disclosures to a disinterested observer which, we full of significance. When passed implicated are beings in the court they are at once spreaded by a bevy of young falleys, and frequently by a number of lewd women, who enter into consultation with the accused and hobnob with them during the entire progress of the hearing. It is astonishing to see how many there are who come to the resche the moment a follow who is well being is mrosied, and then the manufaction of testimony suited to the occasion begins, and by the time the case comes to trial alibia can be proven, of anything else that is necessary to secure the discharge of the accused parties The lesson to be learned from this is that there is a clique or gang numbering anywhere from twenty to fifty, resident in the city and in the immediate vicinity, sumposed of thriving men and wouldn who are not only ready to assist each other in rebbing and stealing, but in case one or more happen to be arrested, to come to the rescue as witnesses, and the hubnobbing before and at the trial, which is above alluded to, is doubtless for the manufacture of such testimony as the exigencies of the case may require. The fact that so many of this kind of people reside in and shout the city, is one that should lead all good cauzens to do what they can to checkmate so dangerous an element in society, and use their influence to have the members of these gangs brought to justice

These thieves and robbers are always on the lookout for just such victims as the one fleered on the Fourth, and when they on accomplish their work in no other way, there are never wanting female acomplices, who are ready to act as decoys to lead the unsuspecting countrymen into their well laid snares. When any of these dangerous characters are caught, every good entizen ower it to himself and to the community, to use all reasonable cudeavors to prevent their escape from justice. People should open their eyes to the fact that the ring of thieves and dead heats in the city is a body of no small magnitude, and they are surrounded by aiders and abettors to a number that is most ustomishing

The Lessons of Booterday's Tricky.

A preliminary examination of parties accused of crime such as was had yesterday before Justice Peake, makes curious disclosures to a disinterested observer which are full of similarance. When parties implicated are brought the court they are at once streeted by a bevy of young follem, and frequentit by a number of lewd women, who enter into consultation with the accused and hobnob with them during the entire progress of the hearing. It is astonishing to see how many there are who come to the resche the moment a follow who is well being help is mrested, and then the manufacture of testimony suited to the occasion begins, and by the time the case anything else that is accessary to secure the discharge of the accused parties that there is a clique or gang numbering anywhere from twenty to fifty, resident in the city and in the immediate vicinity, who are not only ready to assist each other in rebbing and stealing, but in case one or more happen to be arrested, to be. There is no good reason for this if the case of intelligent and vertainess as it ought to be. There is no good reason for this if composed of thriving men and women, one or more happen to be arrested, to come to the rescue as witnesses, and the hobnobbing before and at the trial, which is above alluded to, is doubtless for the manufacture of such testimony as the exigencies of the case may require The fact that so many of this kind of people reside in and about the city, is one that should lead all good citizens to do what
